Queanbeyan River Concert

3 March 2018

There is something truly magical about live music by the water's edge. Whether it's the fresh open air, the still water of the river, or the ebb and flow of a musician's melodies, we always find ourselves enchanted by the sights and sounds.

The Canberra Symphony Orchestra are thrilled to be playing a collection of popular classics with each piece bound to bring back memories. These timeless pieces are a celebration of the much-loved Queanbeyan River. This special concert featuring the popular works of Mozart, Handel, Brahms, and many more, will leave you demanding an encore!

Pre-show welcome

Yukkumbruk Ngunnawal Traditional Dancers. This group, whose name means 'Crow', is made up of five proud Ngunnawal women who have a strong connection to the region and the Queanbeyan River. Dean Freeman is an accomplished Didgeridoo player who works closely with the community to share the importance of the land and the connection to his people.
