CIVIL WORKS

Demolition works of existing buildings are now completed; the site team has since turned their attention to the eastern part of the basement excavation. The basement excavation to this area is starting to come together now with ground conditions being shaped in anticipation of the piling rig arriving to site. The eastern section of the basement has now commenced with breaking ground, the successful removal of the street lighting was completed allowing this area to be opened up

To further assist stakeholders and surrounding buildings with noise mitigation, the team have introduced a passive piling technique to help minimize the noise and disturbances within this process. ADCO will continuously actively monitoring any movement that may be experience with these construction works.
